

A ROYAL PROCLAMATION.

Announcement that the Coronation of King Edward is to take Place Next June.

EXACT DAY NOT YET DETERMINED UPON.

The Proclamation Made With All the Quaint and Medieval Scenes Which Marked the Proclaiming of King Edward VII's Accession to the Throne.

London, June 29.—The royal proclamation announcing that the coronation of King Edward is to take place in June next, the exact day not yet being determined upon, was read, Friday morning, at St. James' palace, Temple Bar and the Royal Exchange, with all the quaint medieval scenes which marked the occasion of the proclaiming of the accession of the king. The ceremony was unheralded, so the coronation was not so great as on the previous occasion, but crowds quickly gathered from all directions and thronged the points at which the announcement was read. The ceremony began at St. James, where, from the purple-draped balcony of the palace, the norrey king-of-arms (William Henry Weidman), in a brilliant uniform, accompanied by the heralds and pursuivants in gorgeous tabards, and numerous state officials, read the proclamation.

A Gorgeous Cavalcade. At the appointed hour, four state trumpeters, lavishly adorned in gold-embroidered tunics, appeared in front of the balcony. By their side stood the norrey king-of-arms, flanked by two royal maids, bearing gold maces, and surrounded by the blue mantle (Gordon Ambrose De Lisle Lee); the rouge dragon (Everard Green); the Somerset herald (Henry Farnham Burke); the York herald (Alfred Scott Scott-Gatty); and the Windsor herald (William Alexander Lindsay), all in their full official regalia, and the earl marshal (the duke of Norfolk); the lord steward (the earl of Pembroke); the lord chamberlain (the earl of Clarendon), and others.

The trumpeters sounded a protracted fanfare, and then the norrey king-of-arms bared his head and read the proclamation in a clear voice, which must have been audible to the royal party, occupying a stand on the grounds of Marlborough house, facing the balcony of the palace. King Edward wore an admiral's uniform. Queen Alexandra and the others of the royal party watched the ceremony with the greatest interest, the king using field glasses to obtain a clearer view.

As the norrey king-of-arms concluded with the words "God save the king," the trumpeters again sounded a fanfare, the king, in the meantime, standing at the salute.

Proceeded to Other Points.

A procession was then formed. Led by a detachment of the horse guards, five royal carriages, containing the heralds, pursuivants and other officials, proceeded to Temple Bar and the Royal Exchange, where the formalities, less picturesque, perhaps, were repeated.

Lord Mayor Green and the sheriffs met the procession at Temple Bar.

SHE HAS LOST A FRIEND.

Sincere Sorrow in England Over the Unhappy Death of Adelbert S. Hay.

London, June 29.—The London weekly papers speak of the loss to Secretary Hay by the death of his son, Adelbert S. Hay, at New Haven, Conn., in the terms of deepest sympathy. The Saturday Review says:

"By the death of Adelbert S. Hay American politics have lost a valiant and a noble figure. The Spectator says: "That Adelbert S. Hay would, in time, have proved himself like his father, a great and useful public servant, we do not for a moment doubt. The deep sympathy felt in England for Secretary Hay has been most striking. We sincerely trust that the burden of public service will not prove beyond his endurance, for, with the Philippines, Cuban and Porto Rican questions only half settled, the United States needs the calm and moderating counsels of his wise and comprehensive mind."

THE DEED OF A DESPERADO.

Kills two of Party of Would-Be Lynchers, Escapes and is Recaptured.

Panther, W. Va., June 29.—The attempt of a mob to lynch a negro, yesterday, at Jager, five miles south of here, resulted in the killing of two of the would-be lynchers. The negro, Peter Price, was accused of insulting a white woman. He was pursued by a crowd of men, and sought refuge in a small room in the rear of a saloon. The mob battered down the door, and as they entered the room Price threw himself at them with the ferocity of a tiger, with a knife in each hand. In cutting his way out he killed George Hooks and F. M. McGraw and seriously cut Charles Davis. As Price struck down these men the others fell back, and the negro made his escape through an open window.

Several members of the mob brought revolvers into play, but they succeeded in inflicting only two slight flesh wounds. Price was pursued and captured by officers, who hurriedly sent him to the jail at Welch to avoid the vengeance of the enraged populace. Hooks and McGraw were both well-known citizens.

THE MEREDITH MURDER.

Evidence Accumulating that it Was Unprovoked, Cowardly and Brutal.

Seattle, Wash., June 29.—New light is thrown on the Meredith murder by investigation which has been proceeding since the event. It has transpired that Meredith left his home on the afternoon of the murder with the intention of cleaning up the room in the police station and transferring his personal possessions to his home. He had packed up the articles belonging to him, among which was the shotgun with which he fired at Condit.

About five minutes before the shooting occurred Meredith was seen at the corner of Jesler way and Second avenue. The ex-chief had his arms full of packages at this time. It has also developed that the Condit brothers were walking about in the neighborhood of the drug store for some time before the shooting. The latest developments point to the supposition that the Condit brothers found Meredith on his way home and provoked him to the shooting.

IT IS VIOLATION OF LAW.

But the Authorities Have No Power to Punish or Restrain It—A Queer Ruling.

Kansas City, Mo., June 29.—Sunday closing advocates yesterday received a knock-out blow in a ruling handed down by Judge John W. Henry, of the circuit court. Judge Henry decided that the board of police commissioners has no right to revoke a saloon license unless it is shown that the place is a disorderly house within the meaning of the law.

"The selling of one, two or a dozen drinks of whisky on Sunday," said Judge Henry, "does not necessarily mean that a man is running a disorderly house, although it is a gross violation of the law. The court has no mandamus power to review the acts of the board of police commissioners."

The point of issue was to compel the police commissioners to revoke the license of saloonkeepers who had been convicted in the police court for selling on Sunday against the orders of the mayor and the board.

London, June 29.—The duke of Manchester made what he hopes will be his last appearance in the bankruptcy court, as his creditors formally accepted the composition of 12s 6d in the pound. Although the accounts showed that the unsecured debts amounted to £30,710, the trustees submitted that this sum could be scaled down to £19,714 with assets amounting to £5,000.

During the course of his final examination, the duke of Manchester registered that his failure was due to the loss of several thousands of pounds in theatrical speculations, and said he had not gambled.

WESTERN CYCLONE STORMS.

Property Losses Very Heavy in Sections Swept in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

St. Paul, Minn., June 29.—Heavy storms are reported all over this section yesterday afternoon and the property loss will run up into the thousands, while a number of persons have been injured and many head of live stock killed. The worst storm was that which passed through a large district south of New Richmond, Wis. It was a tornado, and did much damage to farm property, although fortunately no lives were lost. On a smaller scale it resembled the tornado which swept over and destroyed the greater portion of New Richmond two years ago. Over a dozen farmers have already reported the loss of a part or all of their buildings, wind mills, live stock, machinery, etc., and the loss there will be very heavy. In some cases buildings were crushed down and others swept away by the wind, and flood damage was elsewhere reported. The rainfall was nearly four inches.

A tornado is also reported to have caused much loss about Star Prairie, some distance to the north of New Richmond. Hector Monn reports all crops destroyed six miles north of there by a destructive hailstorm. Bird Island and Montevideo, Minn., both suffered considerably. In St. Paul and Minneapolis the storm was very threatening, but here only minor damage was done.

STORM KING IN MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis and St. Paul Visited—Destruction and Destruction.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 29.—A terrific storm swept over Minneapolis, St. Paul and vicinity yesterday afternoon. The storm broke about four o'clock, being preceded by almost utter darkness. It was so dark that the Western league baseball game was postponed because the players were unable to see the ball. Many people went into the streets to watch the clouds, and when the storm of wind and rain broke there were many injured.

Holly Bennett was struck by a live electric wire and killed. The frame building occupied by the Home laundry was wrecked. Mrs. Morey, an employee of the laundry, had a leg broken and a shoulder dislocated.

The storm leveled part of the canvas enclosure of Pawnee Bill's Wild West show, and several persons were injured there.

One of the grain tanks being built by the Pioneer Steel Elevator Co., in southeast Minneapolis, was tilted from its foundation and collapsed. The workmen barely escaped.

Throughout the city window lights were broken in and much minor damage was done.

In St. Paul the storm was heavy, but the damage there was of a minor character, chimneys being blown down, window panes smashed and shade trees broken.

Duluth and West Superior also report a heavy wind and electrical storm yesterday afternoon. Similar reports come from many towns north and west of the Twin Cities. Near Montevideo, Minn., all the buildings on the farm of G. Jung were blown down and one man was probably fatally injured.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Woman and Four Children Targets for the Electric Field.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 29.—During a storm yesterday lightning struck a large oak tree in Riverview park, under which Mrs. W. F. Young and her four children were eating a picnic luncheon. George Young, aged six years, was instantly killed; Norman, a younger brother, was rendered unconscious, and will probably die. Mrs. Young, her eight-year-old daughter and an infant, were seriously shocked.

LaCrosse, Wis., Storm Swept.

LaCrosse, Wis., June 29.—A tornado, doing thousands of dollars of damage, passed over this city at seven o'clock last evening. The roof of the Hotel Boycott, a four-story structure, was blown off, and landed half a block away, on another large building, which was wrecked. The new Norwegian Lutheran hospital was wrecked. Trees were uprooted and many plate glass store fronts were destroyed. Several buildings were struck by lightning.

FOR TIMBER STEALING.

Suits Aggregating Nearly a Million Pending and Hundreds of Entries Indicted.

Helena, Mont., June 29.—The United States yesterday commenced another suit in the federal court against the Bitter Root Development Co., the Anaconda Copper Mining Co. and the Daly estate to recover over three hundred and fifty thousand dollars for timber claimed to have been illegally cut upon the public domain. This makes suits for $750,000 that the government has pending against these parties.

A deputy marshal has gone to arrest a Missoula man who is alleged to have been an agent in land frauds for which 756 more entries have just been indicted.

A Talented Woman Preferred.

ENDEAVOR-ERS' CONVENTION.

Preparations Completed for the Meeting Next Saturday—Outline of the Programme.

Cincinnati, July 1.—Next Saturday the Twentieth International Christian Endeavor convention begins in Cincinnati. Preparations have been made for 25,000 registered delegates and many visitors.

The meeting will be held in Music hall and the two exposition buildings adjoining it. Odeon hall, in the same square, will be used for conferences and section meetings. Music hall has one of the finest pipe organs in the country. The two exposition buildings have been fitted up with large platforms for the choir and Christian Endeavor. Colors of red and white are most prominent in the decorations.

Saturday evening the welcoming address will be delivered by Gov. Nash and local representatives. Responses will be made by delegates from the states, Canada and foreign countries.

President Francis E. Clark will deliver his annual address, and Secretary John Willis Baer will present his annual report.

The only Sunday service of the convention will be in the afternoon—the morning and evening being occupied with regular church services. In the city, visiting ministers preaching in all of the churches.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday sessions will be held morning and afternoon and evenings in three auditoriums. More than one hundred and fifty speakers will take part in the programmes of the several days, among them a number of representatives from foreign countries, a large number of foreign missionaries and prominent ministers. The laymen will be represented by Gen. O. O. Howard, Hon. S. B. Capen, of Boston, William Phillips Hall, of New York city and others.

The music of the convention will be one of the special features, a chorus of 1,200 voices having been drilled for many weeks. This chorus will be divided among three halls, and will be led by three of the best-known leaders of choirs in this country.

Complete arrangements have been made for the reception of visitors and a committee of 600 members of Christian Endeavor societies will attend to this work.

In addition to the programmes at the three large halls, where reading accommodations will be arranged for 13,000 people, there will be daily meetings in all in three of the larger churches of the city.

At noon there will also be evangelical services held in the market places, factories, shops and public buildings, so that the entire time from eight o'clock until ten o'clock at night will be crowded with meetings, and visitors will pick those meetings in which they are most interested. The "Official Programme," a booklet of 60 pages, gives the programme and a list of the speakers of the association in every hall, church or meeting place.

Among the prominent speakers who will deliver addresses are: Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, of New York; Dr. Cornelius Woeifkin, Rev. G. Campbell Morgan, who has recently come from England to take the place so long occupied by D. L. Moody; Dr. Geo. Purves, of New York; Dr. R. A. Torrey, of Chicago; Will R. Moody, Dr. Charles M. Sheldon and Dr. T. S. Hamlin, of Washington, D. C.; Dr. Wayland Hoyt, and Dr. Milton Merle Smith, of New York.

WORSE THAN A BATTLE.

Ambulance Corps Busy All Day Picking Up Victims of Heat Prostration.

Chicago, June 30.—The heat in Chicago today broke all records for June since 1872. For three hours this afternoon the government thermometer in the weather bureau at the top of the Auditorium tower registered 97. In many places in the street it was 104 and 106.

A northwest breeze brought some relief after nightfall, but at 11 o'clock the mercury was again soaring around 90. There was intense suffering throughout the city, especially in the poorer districts, the police ambulances were kept busy picking up victims who had succumbed to the heat. No fatalities were reported, but several of those who were prostrated are in a serious condition.

Forrester Cox says it will be still hotter to-morrow.

ONE KILLED, MANY INJURED.

Serious Collision Between Trolley Car and Two Wagons Loaded With Picnickers.

Chicago, July 1.—One person was killed and nearly a score of others were injured yesterday in a collision between an electric car on Irving Park boulevard, and two wagons loaded with picnickers. Both wagons were overturned by the shock and their occupants were crushed and bruised by the heavy timbers and the stamping of the frightened horses. Both the motorman and conductor of the car were arrested.

JUDGE WOODS' SUDDEN DEATH.

Federal Judge William A. Woods Died Suddenly at His Apartments in Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 30.—Judge William A. Woods, of the United States circuit court, died suddenly Friday night while lying abed in his apartments at the Delano hotel. Death came in a few seconds past midnight.

The judge had not been feeling well in the early part of the evening, but paid little heed to the sickness.

Successful Fight on Yellow Fever.

New York, June 30.—Yellow fever has been combated with such vigor in Cuba that not a single death has been reported as resulting from it this year, said Col. J. B. Hickey, until a few days ago an assistant adjutant general on the staff of Gen. Wood.

German Banker's Suicide.

Leipzig, June 30.—Eduard Krolmann, a banker, committed suicide by shooting himself on his estate at Lindenau, near here.

IMPUDENCE AND IGNORANCE.

Bad Break of a Plutocratic Organ That Seeks for Converts to Commercialism.

That republican organ of the trusts, the New York Sun, voicing, no doubt, the general feeling of the "better element of society," says:

"War upon plutocracy is hopeless. The democracy will never prevail until it satisfies the country that the democrats, not the republican party, are the friends and instruments of plutocracy. They must offer more favorable conditions for money making than the republicans can furnish, or they will remain indefinitely as poor in political strength as they are today."

This brazen echo of Wall street is as ignorant as insolent in thus giving advice to the democracy. The Sun evidently does not know what democracy means, or has forgotten it. Many years ago, when it was an honest sheet, it published an essay on the wide gap between democrats and republicans, and if the flippant editor who now holds rule will refer to it, he may learn something to his advantage, if only not to expose his ignorance again.

The Sun now believes that by the bait of success the democrats should be willing to forego their principles and go the republicans one better in their mad march of commercialism, imperialism and exploitation of the people.

The war upon plutocracy will never be hopeless while the democracy exists. If for awhile a majority of the people are led away to worship at the shrine of plutocracy, and are willing to pick up the crumbs that fall from the table of Dives, they will soon find their mistake.

The rule of the rich cannot be a government in the interest of the people, and any party that is "the real friend and instrument of plutocracy" and that appeals to the people to support it is a fraud, delusion and a snare that only the Sun editor could belong to.

But it is well to have this expos-

DOCTORED FIGURES.

The Treasury Bureau Furnishing Questionable Evidence in Support of Protective Tariff.

Ever since Senator Hanna placed his private secretary in charge of the treasury bureau of statistics there has been the most uncommon statements issued from there, and what is especially singular, always favoring the republican side of the contention of the tariff and other matters. Economists and others who make a special study of statistics openly say the figures given are not reliable, as well known facts dispute them. Here is an instance that seems to show their unreliability given in a dispatch from Washington, which says: Secretary Gage has issued a statement that attempts to disprove the charge that our export business with Russia has suffered on account of the retaliatory tariff war which he precipitated by enforcing a countervailing duty upon Russian sugar. He has undertaken to show that there has been an actual increase in our exports to that country, but when one reflects upon the facts as disclosed by official statements from St. Petersburg, there is room for doubt about the accuracy of the work of the bureau. Here is a statement taken from a St. Petersburg dispatch, which explains itself:

"Since March last, when the minister of finance informed the country that, owing to American attitude, he had been compelled to tax American imports, conditions have come to be as follows: Germany, France and England now pay 14.55 francs per 100 pounds. This the United States also did until March 1. Since the tax has been advanced the others pay as before, and United States goods have to pay 23.10 francs. Thus, the United States pays 58 per cent. more than Germany, France or Great Britain."

"LEST WE FORGET!"

ure from such high republican authority of what the real purpose and plans of that party are. Before this if a democrat accused his opponents of being in league with the plutocrats he was denounced as a demagogue. Now he can cite this high republican authority to prove his assertion.

Despite the blandishments and corruption of the plutocrats there are yet 6,000,000 democrats that have not wavered or bowed the knee to the golden calf they have set up in the Wall street wilderness.

THE PRESIDENT'S CHANGES.

Mr. McKinley's Self-Sacrifice Upon the Altar of Patriotism and Politics.

Though President McKinley has in the most pronounced and emphatic manner declared that he is not and never will be a third term candidate, that this expresses his "long-settled conviction," and that he would not accept a nomination even if it were tendered, nevertheless let no supporter of his despair. If the circumstances require Mr. McKinley to forego this "long-settled conviction" for the sake of his party and the continued prosperity of his country, his public record is a guarantee that he will make the sacrifice. It would not be Mr. McKinley's first sacrifice of conviction upon the altar of patriotism and politics.

He was a silver coinage man who gave up his monetary convictions to save the "honor of the nation" by becoming president. Long a strenuous advocate of the "home market" for American products, he has now assumed the task of prying open foreign markets for the sake of the great trusts upon which the prosperity of his country depends. Denouncing "forcible annexation" of alien territory as "criminal aggression" within the purview of the American "code of morals," he nevertheless suppressed this ethical conviction of forcible annexation to the extent of dictating a treaty of cession from Spain and carrying on an unauthorized war of conquest against the friendly Filipinos. And though he formally and impressively described the concession of free trade to Porto Rico as a "plain duty," yet he used the influence of his office and the power of his patronage to protect the industries of his country from the ravages of Porto Rican imports. Mr. McKinley is nothing if he has not been self-sacrificing. His record proved him incapable of shrinking from the sacrifice even of "long-settled convictions," when the occasion demands it.

OPINIONS AND POINTERS.

A mutual admiration society has been organized in Iowa with two members. Gov. Shaw proposes Senator Allison for president and Allison proposes Shaw. The railroad corporations have too good a hold on both of them for the people to second the nomination of either.

Will Secretary Gage explain why it is necessary to ship gold to France when he reports such a large balance of trade in our favor and the gold should be coming our way? These shipments of gold to France by England have been going on for some time, and must be to pay our debts.

The president is juggling with two important matters that will bear watching. Free trade with Porto Rico and civil government with the Philippines, both are promised to go into effect on or about July 1, but the Porto Rican matter will be delayed and civil government in the Philippines will be in name only, for the military will still rule there.

When Senator Hanna, as chairman of the republican national committee, received those large contributions from the trusts to elect McKinley, without doubt there was a promise made to continue the protective tariff and control congress in their interest. Hanna is faithfully carrying out his end of the bargain by urging that no tariff tinkering must be passed by the republican majority in congress.

The Porto Ricans are all at sea trying to unravel the supreme court tangle, and are lost in a maze from which they see no outlet. The San Juan (Porto Rico) News thus describes their condition: "We are and are not part of the United States. We are and are not a foreign country. We are and are not citizens of the United States. We are and are not to have our money back. The tariff is and is not void. The constitution does and does not extend and its limitations do and do not apply."

Women Must Sleep.

Avoid Nervous Prostration. If you are dangerously sick what is the first duty of your physician? He quiets the nervous system, he deadens the pain, and you sleep well. You ought to know that when you ceased to be regular in your courses, grow irritable without cause, and pass sleepless nights, there is serious trouble somewhere, and nervous prostration is sure to follow. You ought to know that indigestion, exhaustion, womb displacements, fainting, dizzy spells, headaches, and backache send the nerves wild with affliction, and you cannot sleep. Mrs. Hartley, of 221 W. Congress St., Chicago, Ill., whose portrait we publish, suffered all these agonies, and was entirely cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; her case should be a warning to others, and her cure carry conviction to the minds of every suffering woman of the unfailing efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

STRANGE, BUT TRUE.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty. The town of Nasso, in Sweden, has a female contingent in its fire brigade.

None of the useful varieties of fish is yet known to exist in antarctic waters. A corner in St. Louis that sold for $350,000 in 1891 has just changed hands for $1,000,000.

In the "Mountain of the Monks," on the coast of Macedonia, there are 20 monasteries. South Australia has never been visited by any great epidemic and is naturally very healthful.

In India if you see a quantity of strings tied from side to side of the street, with three cornered pieces of paper fastened to them, you may know that a birthday is being celebrated in one of the houses.

The emigration of Russian peasants to eastern Siberia, and especially to the Ussuri territory, is going on at a feverish rate. During the first three months of the present year nearly 3,000 people left Odessa for Vladivostok.

BETTER THAN CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

Jetmore, Kan., July 1st.—Mrs. Anna Jones Freeman, daughter of Mr. G. G. Jones, of Burdett, and one of the most popular ladies in Hodgeman County, has been a martyr to headache for years. It has made her life a continual misery to her. She suffered pains in the small of the back, and had every symptom of kidney and urinary trouble.

To-day she is as well as any lady in the state.

This remarkable change was due entirely to a remedy recently introduced here. It is called Dodd's Kidney Pills, and many people claim it to be an infallible cure for kidney diseases, Rheumatism and Heart Trouble.

Mrs. Freeman heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and almost with the first dose she grew better. In a week her headaches and other ailments had gone, and she had left behind her all her illness and days of misery.

A medicine that can do for any one what Dodd's Kidney Pills have done for this lady, is very sure soon to be universally used, and already the demand for these pills has increased wonderfully in Pawnee and Hodgeman Counties, where the particulars of Mrs. Freeman's case and its cure are known.
